

FG Gifted and Talented Support

Increasing motivation and the joy of learning through targeted support

FG Gifted and Talented Support offers children with particular interests and talents the opportunity to attend a workshop each year. The aim of this is to appeal to the particular interests and skills of the schoolchildren. In the workshops, we consolidate certain specialist subjects, promote skills and continue to develop curiosity and the joy of learning. This increases the motivation of the children and encourages outstanding achievements.

In the workshops, we look at and consolidate various subjects relating to humanities, natural and social sciences and the arts, ranging from IT and robotics to electricity and chess as well as drama and philosophy.

In every semester or school year, we offer a different subject focus. Members of the Gifted and Talented Support committee or class teachers will inform parents and guardians of the current courses in good time.

Class levels

Children from the second to eighth year of school can take advantage of the workshops. Children from two consecutive class levels are represented in each workshop. Grammar school pupils have the opportunity to attend courses at a university.

Enrolment

The programme is aimed at all pupils with particular gifts and interests. Enrolment takes place via the class teacher. Subject teachers can also approach parents and pupils and recommend them for a workshop. In the event of interest in a workshop, pupils write a short letter of motivation after consulting their class teacher, in which their interest in the subject area is demonstrated or outlined.

Duration and cost

The programme is free. The workshops take place during regular lesson times, whenever possible during "Lernlandschaften" or study. Class teachers can provide information on which school hours are affected and will create an individual plan alongside parents and children. Each workshop takes place for four to five double lessons in a semester.
